Rusty Russell Obituary

R. Raymond "Rusty" Russell Jr. - July 16, 1938 - October 14, 2014, age 76.

Born on July 16, 1938, to R. Raymond Russell and Margaret Morris Russell, who preceded him in death.

He is survived by his sister, Barbara "Babs" Russell Tracy; his niece, Shonessi Tracy and husband Scott Hillen; much loved cousins and friends.

Rusty was awarded a life membership in the Omaha Ski Club for his many years of service on the Club's Board of Directors.

Rusty had a love of snow skiing, a lover for all sports, but was particularly passionate about Husker football and Creighton basketball.

Rusty worked as the senior ski salesman and technician at Bahnsen's Ski Shop, where he fitted many of the OSC members with their first set of skis, boots and poles.

Occasionally, Rusty would hold ski sharpening and waxing demonstrations at club gatherings.

He gave up skiing in the early 1980s due to a bad back, but continued supporting the club with ski deals for our members at Bahnsen's until they quit the ski business.

The Omaha Ski Club will be forever thankful for his service to our Club.

Information provided by Steve Grunberg.

Brought to you by Mt. Crescent Ski Patrol, Mt. Crescent Ski Area, Omaha Ski Club, Aksarben Cinema, and BackwoodsAk.

Thursday, Jan. 22nd, 2015 at 6:30pm at Aksarben Cinema!

As skiers and snowboarders, we don't spend much time looking backward—we don't have to. Our history is all around us, in the age-old streets of the mountain towns where we gather and the quirky traditions handed down by the generations that taught us. The very act of carving a turn is a celebration of those who came before, even as we explore and innovate and push relentlessly forward into the unknown. That's where the mountains take us.

No Turning Back, the latest ski and snowboard film from Warren Miller Entertainment, is 65 years in the making. We're taking a legacy that dates to before skis had edges and mountains had condos and we're running with it to every end of the winter world. From beneath blankets of powder in Niseko, Japan to the top of Greece's Mount Olympus, we'll leave fresh tracks on faces that have never seen skiing and snowboarding quite like this before. Even after all this time, we'll find new corners of the French Alps to climb, Mom and Pop hills in Montana to ride, and ancient evidence of skiing in the fjords of Norway.

For 65 years, WME has documented the cutting edge of winter sports, from early alpine racing to the birth of freestyle, extreme skiing, and snowboarding. Every single winter has seen riders pushing envelopes we didn't realize existed the winter before, and this year is no different. See Ingrid Backstrom and Jess McMillan push women's big mountain skiing to the edge of Alaska's Chugach; watch Ted Ligety and the US Ski Team rewrite the rules of speed on the fearsome Birds Of Prey World Cup course, and witness JT Holmes and Ueli Kestenholz prove that the only thing more radical than extreme lines in the Swiss Alps are extreme lines off the Swiss Alps. And that's just half the story.

There's only one thing in life more anticipated than snowfall in winter, and that's the Warren Miller movie every fall. The air is getting cold, and this time, there's No Turning Back.
